After a call from our friends at the Olhão Canil, Treve and Sharron collected six newborns that were just a day old. There were originally nine puppies, but three had already passed away. They were dumped in a bag in the garbage; left to freeze.... we see this too often!

Sadly, we lost another three because they could not overcome the damage from the cold and were too weak to thrive. The remaining three fortunately gained their health really quickly and despite their awful start, Vet Andre from Vet Gilão has given all three a clean bill of health.... in early March they all weighed around 3kg. This little girl was called Harriet and she's been adopted by a family that live in Coimbra. She's full of bounce, playful and so sweet.... she's going to be a wonderful pet and she'll be great friends, no doubt, with the doggies and kitty already part of the family.
